A prohibition election has been called for April 8th in Milam county. It is regrettable for more than one reason. Five years ago on April 10, 1939, the dyes forced a ballot in this county and the issue was the same. The results of that election was decisive. The dyes who put the county treasury to the expense of the election received 1113 votes and those who opposed prohibition polled 2648 votes. Now comes another election, the expense of which will have to be paid from tax money and the results will not vary appreciably from those of the 1939 poll if indications are to be taken for their face value.

It is unfortunate that at a time when millions of our young men are abroad fighting for the security of those at home, such an issue could be raised. The question is a vital one and the enactment of the 18th Amendment so outraged the liberty of the citizen in due time it was repudiated, but not until it had brought an era of crime to the nation that made America the laughing stock of the world and did violence to an otherwise lofty conception of freedom. Mr. Herbert Hoover called prohibition a "noble experiment." It may well have been so defined. We have no desire to bring into question either the sincerity or integrity of those who have sought through all the years to make a moral issue of prohibition. There is, however, cause for both surprise and alarm, that again such restrictions would be sought in restraint of so fundamental a liberty.

Prohibition was the gravest error ever made by the American people. It forced an extremity that did violence to democracy and fell short of any appreciable approach to solving the age old question of alcohol. It brought anarchy into a social order which had grown strong in rugged individualism and the exercise of all the freedoms. It struck down law and ate into the vitals of government itself and if anything came out of the experiment it must have been rebuke for harboring belief that legislation can make a people good.

The issue of prohibition strikes a blow at personal liberty and the questions involved are so vital to the individual, we should make no effort to revive it in the absence of the men who are away on the business of war. What will our answer be when they return, and we have altered their freedoms? This is a question that cuts squarely and deeply across the face of our political, social and economic life. Again we repeat there is no moral issue involved.

Have we the moral right to raise an issue of discord such as this at a time when our very existence is at stake? Much has been said of post war aims and nothing radical may occur in that or any other regard until they come back from battle. It is a fearful responsibility to take the lead in enacting an abridgment of liberty under prohibition when our boys, whose America is tomorrow, can have no voice.

This is about a large number of fine young Americans. We could now be writing this about your sons or mine. Out there where the fight is going on they call it luck if they go through and don't get it. I recently visited with them. Many are so young. Some will never see the Bluebonnets again now changing the color of the Texas prairies because they have no sight left. Some will never walk again normally because they have no legs. You and I are secure in our home and in our life because they fought the enemy. The army doctors are doing a great job up at McClosky hospital, restoring as best they can the bodies of these boys. The Red Cross has made a special appeal to Milam county to furnish Wards 39 and 40. Certain items of equipment are needed. Mrs. F. C. Fahrendorf who is doing the best job ever in this field as director of relief and rehabilitation work, has appealed to The Herald to bring this matter to the attention of our people. Patients in these wards have been confined to their beds for 200 days. One item needed is a bicycle. I am starting this appeal off with $5. No individual is expected to give the bike but we can buy one. These boys will not ride this cycle normally. It will be stationary to be used to exercise their legs, to restore use.

Better Co-Operation In Waste Paper Drive Sought in Cameron

S. E. Brogdon, director for the Waste Paper collection under the War Production Board, has made a special appeal for better co-operation from merchants.

Mrs. Dockery, according to officers, was attacked with a knife as she sprinkled some clothes. It was also said that she has sustained permanent injuries when leaders in her left wrist were severed. She ran from the home and was later taken to the Cameron Hospital where she is now under the care of her physician, Dr. Clifford G. Swift.

Critical Appeal Is Made In Waste Paper Collection Drive

A special appeal was made to merchants to stop destruction of good waste paper by dumping floor sweep, broken bottles, grease, etc., in the paper baskets and containers.

It was said here today that such paper is worthless and care must be taken not to send such paper to the government collection pile. If merchants will not do a better job of co-operation in this regard much paper will be lost.

Remember, don't contaminate this paper with trash. Send it over clean. It's a patriotic war demand of you!

QUICK DECISION MAY FOLLOW BALKAN THRUST

Russian forces surging into Rumania on a front more than 31 miles wide have captured the big German base of the Dniester river and are rolling through shattered enemy lines with astounding speed, Moscow announced last night.

The Moscow newspaper Pravda declared German armies of the Ukraine were on the verge of chaos and insisted that now was the time for decisive blows "from the east, west and south—meaning an Allied invasion from Europe."

The Red army's advance to within sight of the Carpathian mountains was reported throwing Hitler's Balkan satellites into a sweat.

The Russians were within about 250 miles of the Ploesti oil fields.

The German foreign office said Germany was "striving to co-ordinate all resources and forces" of the Balkans against the Russian threat—probably a polite way of saying the Nazis were taking over.

Troops of the First Ukraine army under Marshal Gregory Zhukov, driving westward toward pre-war Poland, finally tore the Nazis loose from their Vinnitsa stronghold, 60 miles north-east of Mogilev-Podolski, Marshal Stalin announced. Threatened with encirclement, the Germans were forced to abandon the fortress town after weeks of savage resistance.

Whether the German retreat in Russia is the result of disintegration or a part well played to bring peace with Russia will soon develop.

by Deputy Sheriff Carl C. Black, accompanied by Will Cook, a former deputy marshal here.

Stilwell figured in the sensational jail break here in late 1942, along with Melvin Cook, charged with burglary and captured in a barn at a farm house near San Gabriel after he had been shot and wounded by Constable Worley at Thorndale. Two local boys also escaped. In the flight from Texas they were guilty of stealing two automobiles, one in Cameron and one in Rockdale.

AMERICANS CLOSING IN ON JAP ISLAND BASES

American amphibious forces invaded Manus island, largest of the Admiralty group in the southwest Pacific, Wednesday, while land-based Liberators made their first raid on Truk presaging frequent bombings of Japan's greatest central Pacific stronghold.

Infantrymen, including the first cavalry division from Texas, splashed ashore on Manus under the cover of heavy barrage from warships, planes and artillery, the latter firing from nearby islands, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today (Friday), the invaders suffered only minor losses as they pushed to within a half a mile of the Japanese base. The only one in the Admiralty group that Allied air forces aren't already using.

New air successes—over Truk, Wewak and Rabaul—were reported as a high ranking naval officer predicted the American fleet would be close enough to Tokyo in another year to blast the reluctant Japanese navy out of its harbors.

The Liberators rode in on Truk under cover of darkness to drop their bombs just before dawn on Dublon and Eten islands. Dublon is a major supply and ship repair base. Eten is an aid field. They flank the anchorage where carrier-borne American planes surprised Japanese warships Feb. 16 in a two day foray that cost the Japanese 23 ships and 201 airplanes.

Wednesday's raiders flew from recently captured air fields in the western Marshalls—either Eniwetok, 750 air miles from Truk, or Kwajalein, about 1,000 miles distant.

The Truk strike was co-ordinated with attacks on three other eastern Caroline islands and two atolls in the eastern Marshalls. The blow at Truk is the most advanced action by land-based central Pacific forces.

"In another year we'll be pretty close to Tokyo," said Rear Adm. Frederick C. Sherman, an aircraft carrier task force commander. "If the Japs won't come out and fight, we'll sink them in their harbors with our carrier-borne planes."

The Nipponese fleet has long since been driven from the southwest Pacific where its air force is now being eliminated. Allied planes made their fifth straight raid on Wewak, only strong air center remaining to the enemy in northeast New Guinea, shooting down five interceptors as targets were blasted with 140 tons of explosive. The airdrome, town and harbor of Rabaul, once the key to Japan's southwest Pacific defense were heavily damaged by 173 tons of bombs dropped by Solomons-based planes.

A hopeless but persistent eight-day Japanese offensive on Bougainville trying to cut off the Rabaul raiders at the source, has cost the Japanese 1,200 soldiers.

Meritorious Civilian Service Emblem Given Bigbee For Navy Job

W. D. Bigbee, Engineer, who recently concluded a long period of service in Central America with a construction company building installations for the United States Navy, has been awarded a Meritorious Civilian Service emblem.

This emblem is the first seen in Cameron. It came Saturday to Mr. Bigbee who has been at home for about three months. Admiral B. Morrell, USN, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, signed the citation accompanying the award. The emblem supports a silver V on a background of blue.

The first endorsement on the citation came from the officer in charge of construction at San Juan, Porto Rico.

The citation is as follows: "Upon recommendation of the Board of Awards of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, the Chief of the Bureau has this date awarded you the Meritorious Civilian Service emblem as recognition of the excellent service rendered over and beyond those normally required in connection with your duties in the construction program for this year."

"The Chief of Bureau congratulates you upon your outstanding performance and loyalty, and expresses his appreciation of the example you have set for your fellow workers in furthering the prosecution of the war on the vital construction front."

Mrs. Leland Green, Sr., is in Newton Memorial Hospital because of a heart attack.

Dr. W. R. Newton said early Saturday her condition is improved and she may soon be out. She suffered the attack while in Waco and was brought back in an ambulance.

CASSINO WIPED OUT BY MIGHTY AIR BLOW

American troops and tanks fought through the ruins of Cassino last night in a renewed drive toward Rome and relief of the Anzio beachhead after Allied planes had obliterated the Nazi fortress town with the greatest bombing attack in history.

Starting shortly after dawn yesterday, nearly every plane in the Allied Mediterranean command roared over in waves to pulverize the Italian town where the enemy for two months had blocked the Fifth army route to Rome.

Over 2,500 tons of explosives were dropped on Cassino and adjacent military targets.

When the heavy bombers finished at noon, Allied artillery opened up on what was left, and behind a rolling barrage American troops charged in.

Observers said they did not see how a Nazi could have lived through the bombardment.

A German communique indicated Allied forces on the beachhead might have begun slashing at encircling enemy troops in co-ordination with the Cassino push.

The vanguard of Russian armies pounding across the western Ukraine crossed the Bug river on a 62 mile front southwest of Uman and captured the town of Olhopol, only 30 miles from the Rumanian border, Moscow announced.

Mrs. Louis Crouch and small son of Houston are in Cameron visiting relatives and friends for a few days.

Pvt. Joe L. Trdy who has been in the service for over a year is home on an 18 day furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Trdy. Pvt. Trdy has many friends in and around Cameron who are always glad to have him home. This is his first visit home since entering the service.

J. O. MITCHELL,

Sleep fallacy is found to be psychological "state of mind"... so drink all the coffee you want

An eminent doctor at the University of Chicago recently conducted a series of experiments to test the effects, if any, of caffeine on sleep. He took two groups. To one he gave coffee just before bedtime. To the other he gave a corresponding amount of milk. Those who drank coffee reported it caused a disturbance to sleep. Those who drank milk said they slept like kittens.

What neither group knew was the doctor's secret. Before serving, he extracted the caffeine from the coffee and added it to the milk! Need more be said? Drink all the wholesome, fine-flavored Admiration Coffee you want. The sheer pleasure of an extra cup or two after a good evening dinner will give you a buoyancy of spirit and satisfaction found in no other beverage. It's the best possible answer to Admiration's overwhelming popularity in the Southwest.

Other items needed are a piano and ottomans. No such appeal has ever failed to receive wholehearted response here. The Herald will receive contributions to be turned over to Mrs. Fahrendorf to buy this bicycle. A philosopher once said it like this: In the last great day when the reckoning comes, all we will have is what we have given away. I don't know how it will be and none of us do. But I never want it said I failed an American boy who fought for me. So today I am calling for help. It's such a small thing, yet so important. My old pistol pocket friends will respond I know, and in addition as many as feel the same way and after all there are a lot of good people who want a share in this good thing.

This column owes some very fine people a debt of gratitude today for the response they made on yesterday and during the forenoon to the appeal made Wednesday for funds to buy a bicycle for wounded boys at McClosky. Within a few minutes after the Herald appeared on the streets, Bert Nicholson came in with $5. He wanted to have a share in this worthy appeal. His generosity has earned him our thanks and the gratitude of the boys who can now have that bicycle. Mr. Nicholson, Dr. Pepper distributor, meets just about every ideal we hold for the good citizen with charity and generosity in his soul. Thanks Bert. Mrs. Fahrendorf said early Thursday she had already bought the bike and was deeply moved by the generosity the Herald reported coming from the people. Only a few have responded thus far but enough to insure the bicycle will be paid for. A few additional dollars are needed to fix a gymnasium model Mrs. Fahrendorf hopes to get donated also. Our good old friend, Herman McKinney brought in a dollar within a few minutes after Mr. Nicholson came in. He wants to share in this worthy objective. Thanks Herman. Early Thursday Mrs. A. M. Horstmann telephoned she wanted to give $5 and this has been placed in the envelope. She has two sons in the service one in the army artillery and one in the merchant marine. Mrs. E. G. Lowe with three sons in service and three brothers gave $2 and is having a share in this worthy work. While it can be seen from the contributions more must be paid, we feel sure others will come in or send their contributions. Mrs. Fahrendorf says the wards we have been asked to furnish will be models. We can think of nothing quite so binding upon us as to provide this equipment for the boys who have borne the shock of battle for us and have sustained wounds which can never be fully healed. I once read a story about the late Eugene V. Debbs. He was in prison for speaking his mind. Another prisoner lay dying with no one to attend him. Debbs asked permission to be near the man. He sat by the bed for long hours without sleep or food.

At last as the end came he bent over the dying man and placed a kiss upon his forehead. It was a strange thing there in the prison. Someone asked Mr. Debbs a bit later why he had manifested so much solicitude in the case of a man he did not know. "I love humanity," he said "and cannot suffer myself to see even the lowliest of men pass out of this world without some semblance of human devotion." This story is the story too of a lot of good people in Cameron who have never failed a worthy appeal. Let's close this matter up now without further appeal.

RED ARMY SWEEPS ON DEEP INTO RUMANIA

Moscow announced last night that Russian troops sweeping into pre-war Rumania had captured Ataki and 40 other populated places on the western side of the Dniester river and had cut the railway between Bielski and Czernovitz.

This brought to more than 80 the number of localities seized by Red army forces in Rumania and placed the Soviet vanguard within 30 miles of the Prut river from which the Germans launched their 1941 invasion.

Other Russian forces driving into old Poland toward Lwow were reported to have captured 62 more villages and to be within sight of Brody, 50 miles northeast of Lwow. Red Star, Russian army newspaper, said German armies in the Ukraine had been "cut in two."

The Russians acknowledged acceptance of Finland's negative reply to their armistice terms and warned that "by this action it has taken upon itself full responsibility for what will follow."

A Nazi army of 100,000 took over Hitler's wavering Balkan satellite, Hungary, seizing all rail junctions and other communications centers as the Germans hastily battered down against the approaching Russian storm.

Rumanian frightened rulers were reported to have held a five-hour debate over whether to oppose or surrender to the marching Soviets. Hitler was said to be establishing a puppet regime in Hungary, one that presumably would order all Hungarian army forces to help oppose the invading Russian army.

Lt. Gen. General S. Patton, Jr., former commander of the U. S. 7th army in the Italian campaign, has been appointed to command "another army."

Patton, who apologized to his men last summer for having "killed" a soldier in Sicily, is being replaced as commander of the Seventh by Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, who led forces in the final clean-up at Guadalcanal.

The bitter fight for Cassino continued unabated, with no decision yet in sight. Nazi parachute troops fought back into the wreckage of the Continental hotel on Cassino's southern edge, from which they had been expelled Sunday, and repelled every Allied effort to dislodge them from Mt. Cassino on the west.

GERMANS STILL CLING TO RUINS OF CASSINO

Fresh New Zealand and Indian troops fought bitterly through the rubble of Cassino yesterday, capturing its railroad station and clawing within 100 yards of the summit of Mt. Cassino, but at the end of another convulsive day the Nazi still held Cassino's southwest corner and blocked the road to Rome.

Dispatches from Allied headquarters were not optimistic that Lt. Gen. Mark Clark's forces would score a break through soon, and there was wonderment at the amount of fight left in the Nazis after Wednesday's 2,500-ton bomber attack.

The New Zealand and Indian assault troops apparently replaced the American 34th division, which in a month of hard fighting had won about one-third of Cassino before it was with drawn to give the bombers their day.

Russian forces smashing into pre-war Poland seized the German stronghold of Dubno and advanced 18 miles beyond to within 70 miles of the important city of Lwow, Moscow announced. This particular Red army had been resting and gathering itself for several weeks while Nazi forces in the lower Ukraine were being thrown back toward Rumania.

Although German troops withdrawing from southern Russia so far have avoided a major disaster of the Stalingrad category, they are reported leaving behind tremendous quantities of equipment that Hitler can ill afford to lose at this stage. They are wound up in a mammoth and muddy traffic jam.

Mrs. John Kennon and daughter, Mrs. Burks and baby of Houston are visiting friends and relatives in and around Cameron for a few days.

Mrs. Ella Dobbins, who has been visiting her relatives in Cameron, left for Waco where she will spend some time. Mrs. Dobbins spent the winter in Canada with a daughter, and returned to U. S. A. a short time ago.

Mrs. Jess Barrett and daughter, Mrs. Helen Manning of Yarrington is visiting relatives and friends in Freeport for a few days.

BUG RIVER STRONGHOLD IS TAKEN FROM GERMANS

German troops stormed into the German stronghold of Pervomaik on the Bug river above Nikoloev yesterday, Moscow announced, and American heavy bombers rained explosives on what few industrial buildings remained standing in Berlin.

Some passengers who left Berlin after the attack—the fifth by U. S. heavyweights—told Swedish reporters it was the "severest" yet. It was estimated the Flying Fortresses and Liberators dropped 1,500 tons of bombs and incendiaries.

Marshal Joseph Stalin announced the Soviets' capture of Pervomaik in an order of the day, describing it as "an important railway junction and powerful stronghold in the German defenses" in southern Russia.

The Russians were closing in on the great seaport of Nikolaev from the north, east and south. Nikolaev is situated on the east bank of the Bug, and the Nazis appeared to be courting a major disaster there unless they abandoned the city and withdrew to the west side of the broad stream.

The Russians reported advances everywhere on the Ukrainian front and said they expanded their holdings in pre-war Rumania.

The Germans announced their troops had seized control of Hungary by "mutual agreement" to "intensify an effective struggle against bolshevism by the mobilization of all energy." A Berlin broadcast said a new Hungarian government had been formed.

The fight for Cassino raged through its seventh day. The Nazis still held a half-dozen ruined buildings on the town's southern edge and their guns and mortars still poured shells down from commanding heights on the west. Allied artillery was blazing away at Nazi parachute troops dug into the ruins of the Continental hotel.

Freezing Norther And Spring Reach Texas Together

A bitter norther buffeted Texas Sunday night, a few hours before the official beginning of spring on Monday. In some areas, the cold wave followed rains.

Freezing temperatures were recorded at Wichita Falls with 32 degrees and Abilene with 31. Wichita Falls had .16 of an inch of rain and there where high winds were reported.

Sleet and high winds and "ice in peach blossoms" were reported from Electra, which had a temperature reading of 32 degrees.

Cpl. Roy Braden is Newest War Hero; Was Reared in Cameron

Cameron has given another hero to the column of immortals who are achieving victories over the enemy on the battlefield.

This time he is Cpl. Roy Braden. Remembered here as a dynamic, blue eyed boy who managed to get a lot out of life and have his share of fun, he is now 30 and lives in San Antonio.

Here is a recent story from San Antonio Light about a recent exploit of Cpl. Braden now fighting in Italy:

A tale of a San Antonio man's courage in volunteering to help blow up a bridge on the Anzio-Nettuno beachhead in the face of an oncoming motorized column was recounted in an Associated Press delayed dispatch received here today.

The man was Cpl. Roy A. Braden, 30, son of Mrs. Mary Williams of 400 Spencer Avenue, a member of an army engineers corps, who volunteered to accompany other soldiers to demolish the bridge.

Taking with them seven 50 pound cases of TNT which they loaded on the tops of two tank destroyers, the American men hurried to the bridge. Heavy fighting between American riflemen and enemy gunners was already in full swing as Braden and the others arrived. Immediately Braden and a companion carried the seven cases of explosive, one at a time, under enemy fire, to the center of the bridge.

With the cases as their only protection, they fixed the demolition caps and set the fuse which they lit and ran 150 yards back to the tank destroyer where they saw the bridge blown up.

And, in San Antonio, Mrs. Williams heard of her son's courage in action and wasn't surprised. All she said was: "Roy never mentions anything he himself does in his letters. Occasionally, he'll put in a line or two about how he and the other fellows are doing their best to 'keep 'em rolling,' but that's about all. Once or twice he has made a general statement about helping to blow up bridges and clear up mines . . . seemingly a daily task."

One of the members of the first convoy into North Africa in November, 1942. Braden has been overseas since the latter part of 1941. He enlisted in the army Dec. 1, 1941. A native of Cameron, Texas, Braden has been a resident of San Antonio for the past seven years.

Buckholts Pastor Opposes Prohibition

Buckholts, Texas, March 21, 1944.
Editor Cameron Herald,
Cameron, Texas.

Dear Sir:

Since an election has been ordered for April 8th, to vote on the question of county-wide Prohibition of the legal sale of alcoholic beverages and liquor in Milam County, it is important that every qualified voter in the county give careful thought to this matter.

It is a fact that some people misuse alcoholic drinks to their own and other people's hurt and harm. And therefore the Prohibitionists advocate Prohibition; that is, they want all sale of alcoholic drinks forbidden by law.

But the vast majority of people do not mis-use alcoholic drinks, they drink with moderation. Now the mis-use of a certain thing by a few people should not prohibit the right, proper use of it by the many. Some people mis-use a butcher knife or a gun, to kill someone else therewith; but that is no reason for prohibiting the manufacture and sale of butcher knives and guns.

Another fact to be considered in regard to Prohibition is this, that a Prohibition Law cannot and does not prevent people who want to mis-use alcoholic drinks, from doing so. Under Prohibition, the legal sale is forbidden, and the illegal sale by amateur and professional bootleggers thrives and flourishes. Well-meaning people, who advocate Prohibition, are, without realizing it, talking right up the bootleggers' alley. Prohibition has repeatedly been tried unsuccessfully; experience shows that you cannot stop people from drinking by passing a law, any more than you can make people honest by passing a law to that effect. In fact, under Prohibition, the evils of the mis-use of alcohol only multiply. Bootleggers' prices are higher than legal prices, and people spend more money consequently for their drinks. The quality of bootleg liquor is often inferior to legal liquor, since illegal stills are often used under Prohibition; whereas legal liquor is manufactured under governmental inspection and careful scientific analysis. Medical doctors can testify that illegal liquor is often more harmful when used moderately than legal liquor used immoderately, and has higher desultory effects on health than legal liquor.

Also, under legal sale of alcoholic drinks, because it is legal, very few people relatively speaking, mis-use drink by becoming intoxicated; they drink it openly, many at home with the family, and are not so likely to drink too much; whereas under Prohibition, the purchase of the drinks must be done secretly, and the drinking of liquor is done secretly, and often hastily and in overdoses. And the purchaser often gets an unknown brand of bad liquor that may be improperly distilled and insufficiently aged and may produce highly dangerous and poisonous intoxication, sometimes resulting in death. Don't prohibitionists then bear part of the blame for such deaths? Legal liquor at least is not poisonous to cause death.

It might yet be stated here, that Prohibition is not only proven a failure by experience, but is also not in conformity with the teachings of the Holy Scriptures, which says that we shall let no man judge us in regard to such matters as meat and drink, etc. (See Colossians 2, 16.) The Bible teaches moderation and temperance, but not prohibition. People who would make all use of alcoholic drinks to be sinful are just as unbiblical in one extreme as are those who mis-use it into intoxication in the opposite extreme. Christ taught us to use all things with moderation and with thanksgiving unto God; and the Scriptures throughout teach the same. And God-fearing people of all times use alcoholic beverages with moderation and with gratitude to God and Giver.

Sincerely yours,
A. E. FLATHMANN.

MRS. W. H. HENLEY IS BURIED IN CAMERON

Funeral services for Mrs. W. H. Henley who died at her home in Cameron at 2 a. m. Monday, March 6, 1944, were held at First Baptist Church, at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 7, 1944.

Mrs. Henley was a native of Mississippi and had lived in Cameron for the past 35 years. W. H. Henley, husband, who survives, is also a native of Mississippi. They were married in Mississippi and their first home in Texas was in Cameron.

For the past four and a half years Mrs. Henley had been ill and unable to be up. Her life devotion aside from her home and husband, was her church. She had been a member of First Baptist Church in Cameron for the entire time of her residence here and during these years and until her health became critical, she was active and upon her faith and example of loyalty was the church able to make spiritual and material progress.

Mrs. Henley was born in Mississippi and before her marriage to W. H. Henley she was Miss Pandora Dossett, a sister of the late A. J. Dossett, prominent Texas industrialist and compress owner. At the time Mr. and Mrs. Henley came to Texas from their home in Mississippi the Dossett family was living in Cameron where Mr. Dossett had established the Cameron Compress and other presses in Texas, having built the first steam press in Galveston and later one at Texas City. Mr. Henley took his place at the compress here and has remained a part of its personnel since.

In later years A. J. Dossett and family moved to Waco. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dossett are now deceased, and are buried in Waco.

For many years Mrs. Henley was a teacher in Baptist Sunday School and devoted all her spare time to the church and its activities. When the funeral hour came on Tuesday hundreds were in the main auditorium of the church to hear the pastor Rev. C. W. Sanders, praise her for her life of inspiration to the church and community.

Interment was made in Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron with the Green Funeral Home directing arrangements.

Surviving besides her husband are the following members of her family. Six sisters, Mrs. Charles Huff of Crowley, La.; Mrs. G. R. Wilson of Dallas, Mrs. O. E. Francis of New Orleans, La.; Mrs. John Lourlay of Terry, Miss.; Mrs. Peter Casey of Terry, Miss.; Mrs. John Eplen of Houston. Four brothers, Joe Dossett of Lake Charles, La.; John Dossett of Houston, Arthur Dossett of Hillsboro, and Edwin Dossett of Hope, Ark.

Cameron relatives of Mrs. Henley are Mrs. Stanley Swift, niece, and Lieut. Stanley Swift, United States Navy, now stationed at Christobal, Canal Zone. Others are the following who are children of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dossett and nieces and nephews of Mrs. Henley.

Lieut. Stanton Dossett, United States Navy, now on active duty in the war zone in New Guinea; Capt. Walter Dossett, United States Army Air Corps; Andrew J. Dossett, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. John Gray Kendall, Washington and in the Navy; Mrs. Leland McCullough, Pharr, Texas; Mrs. Stanley Swift of Cameron; Lieut. Stanley Swift, United States Navy, now on active duty in the Canal Zone.

700 MILES OF ENGLISH COAST PUT UNDER BAN

In prelude to the invasion of Europe, more than 700 miles of England's southern and eastern coastline were declared a "protected area" today, with severe limitations on all civilian movements effective April 1.

The great naval base at the Firth of Forth also was included in the order by the British military, which stated succinctly that it was "for operational reasons."

With few exceptions—and authorities exercise rigid control over these—no one except persons who reside in the area will be permitted to enter a 10 mile deep belt which extends from the wash in the middle of the east coast to England's southwestern extremity at land's end.

The order will have a two-fold effect of clearing coastal communications for military purpose, and keeping snoopers out of the English coastal area opposite the enemy-held Netherlands, Belgium and France. Persons unable to explain their presence in the "protected area" will be subject to a $400 fine and three-months imprisonment.

Sgt. Woodrow Lowe Promoted; Present Duty Line Sergeant

WHO NEEDS

Beverage Alcohol in Milam County?

1. Do our children and homes need it?
2. Does our "Total Sacrifice" for Victory demand it? Tires, gas, sugar, etc., rationed. No cars, refrigerators or radios, but the wets still use gas, tires and scarce manpower. Won't you join Drys in stopping this WASTE?
3. Do the Old Aged need it legalized to draw pension. Governor of Texas replies: "Dry counties receive same pro rata as wet counties."
4. Distillers, brewers, wholesalers, retailers, need it to guarantee huge profits.
5. Bootlegger wants it legalized according to J. H. Choate, Director Federal Alcohol Control. "Bootleggers are more active today than they were before Prohibition was repealed. Rising tide of outlaw liquor is appalling."

MANY JAPS PERISH IN ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE

Heavy ground fighting resulting in a bitter defeat for the Japanese broke out Saturday on Bonugainville island in the Solomons where more than 20,000 desperate Japanese have been isolated for weeks.

General Douglas MacArthur said that more than one-third of the Japanese attacking force of three or four thousand men died in a suicidal effort to break through the American perimeter at Empress Augusta Bay. The battle lasted all day.

For several days previously, the Japanese had been shelling the perimeter, trying to knock out American airfields from which Allied planes have been taking off to give Rabaul, New Britain, an almost daily blasting.

Presumably the Japanese, whose withdrawal from Bougainville has been impossible since Allied occupation of Green island between Bougainville and Rabaul on Feb. 14, hoped to capture the air fields.

Meantime, thousands of miles to the northeast in the central Pacific, American planes made their fifteenth raid of the war on Wake island.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said that army and navy heavy bombers hit the uneasy Japanese defenders of Wake with 50 tons of explosives. Wake is 2,300 miles west of Pearl Harbor.

Boy Scouts of America Get Big Day in Henry Aldrich Film Wed.

The Boy Scouts of America, an organization all Americans may well be proud of, comes in for a big day in Paramount's newest Aldrich comedy, "Henry Aldrich—Boy Scout," which opens Wednesday at the Cameron Theatre and from all accounts the picture is a grand tribute to the Boy Scouts.

The story has Jimmy Lydon—the Henry of the Aldrich comedies—in a new type of role. No longer the trouble-maker of the Aldrich family, Henry sets an example in his latest screen venture that all American boys would do well to follow. As a Senior Patrol Leader of the Boy Scouts, Henry personifies the principles and code of honor of the scouts.

Entrusted with the job of making a scout out of a troublesome brat, Peter Kent (Darryl Hickman,) Henry does everything to cover up for the boy. It all begins when Ramsey Kent, a former schoolmate of Henry's father, comes to Centerville for the purpose of building a factory. He persuades Henry to take the spoiled child under his wing and make a scout of him. But Peter's sly and practical jokes and general attitude of scorn for the organization make him the most disliked boy in camp.

Peter is due for a rude awakening as one of the boys, in order to convince Peter that there are no pantywaists among the Boy Scouts, gives him a lesson in fisticuffs. From then on, Peter sees the error of his ways and becomes a model is treated to some pretty high comedy in the traditional Aldrich manner, and some thrills calculated to scout—but not before the audience point you on your seat edge for several hairbreath moments.

The exciting climax of the film comes when Peter is falsely accused of meddling with the compass of a competing troop in order to win the camporal, an all-around sports event. Peter runs away from the camp during the night and runs smack into a mess of trouble.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Reality" is the subjeet of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 26.

The Golden Text is: "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations" (Psalms 33:11.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (1 Cor. 2:12.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things. Where shall the gaze rest but in the unsearchable realm of Mind?"

Clarence Gilbert of Houston spent the week end in Cameron with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Emma Butts had as a week end guest, Mrs. Lucille Brady of Temple, and accompanied her home Monday for a few days visit.

DISASTER MULTIPLIES FOR THE GERMANS

London—Thousands of Russian troops smashed into per-war Rumania on a 31 mile front yesterday, crossing the Dniester river and capturing 40 Bessarabian villages in hot pursuit of German-Rumanian legions so shattered that they left bridges intact, Moscow announced early today. The Russians were cutting down German and Rumanians by the thousands, Moscow said, blocking their escape routes, hurling them into the broad Dniester to die, and capturing great quantities of German tanks, guns, and other equipment.

Russian forces have swarmed across the Dniester river on a 31 mile front and established a big bridgehead on the west bank in pre-1940 Rumania, Moscow announced last night.

On the Italian front Allied forces had all but won the whole of wrecked Cassino, taking many prisoners as tanks and infantry pressed through the rubble of the fortress town.

Italy-based Liberators and Fortresses of the U. S. 15th air force droned across the Alps Sunday to raid the Klagenfurt air field and factories near Graz, Austria, the third heavy blow against the Reich in 24 hours. Britain-based Fortresses attacked Pas-de-Calais targets.

The Red army smashed across the Dniester swept up 40 villages in Bessarabia, Moscow announced, but, more important, this spearhead had outflanked masses of harassed German soldiers in the Nikolaev-Odessa area. Scoring one triumph after another, the Red army won 355 more villages and towns on the front wavering to the Black sea from deep inside old Poland.

An order of the day by Marshal Stalin announced earlier the capture of Kremenets, hilltop stronghold 70 miles northeast of Lwow, in old Poland.

From the Russian communique were developed these significant points:

- (1) In the south the Russians who crossed the Dniester near captured Yampol were less than 270 miles from Bucharest, capital of jittery Rumania, and less than 250 miles from the Ploesti oil field.
- (2) The second Ukrainian army of Gen. Ivan S. Konev reached the east bank of the Dniester on a 62 mile front and was fighting in the outskirts of Mogilev-Podolski, 31 miles northwest of Yampol.

Seven Hit Tunes In "Riding High," New Lamour Movie

Another hit musical film is on its way from Paramount, the studio that has contributed so many songs to the Hit Parade in recent years. It is the Technicolor "Riding High," co-starring Dorothy Lamour, Dick Powell and Victor Moore, with Cass Daley and Gil Lamb, and it makes its bow next Sunday at the Cameron Theatre.

This rodeo of rhythm boasts even tunes contributed by such outstanding popular composers as Leo Robin, Ralph Rainger, Joseph J. Lilley, Johnny Mercer and Harold Arlen. If you're hep, you'll realize what tuneful careful is in store for movie fans when "Riding High" comes to town with "You're the Rainbow," "Whistling in the Light," "Injun Gal, Heep Heep," "He Loved Me 'Til the All Clear Came," "Get Your Man," "Willie, the Wolf of the West" and "I'm the Secretary of the Sultan."

Dottie does more singing than she's done in a long time—and she dances, too; Dick sings, Cass Daley sings, and even Victor Moore kicks in his version of a tune. The picture is reported to be a glorified burlesque of a Western, chockfull of fun and action. The setting is a dude ranch in Arizona. It's all in grand fun, so make a note of it.

Cpl. and Mrs. Louis Bienvenu are the proud parents of baby girl born Tuesday, March 21, in Newton Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Bienvenu is the former Louise Watterson and he is now stationed at North Camp Hood.

Mrs. William G. Gillis, Jr., and small daughter have gone to join her husband, Maj. William G. Gillis at Camp Butler in N. C., near Durham, where they have an apartment. Mrs. Gillis spent several months here this winter, with Judge and Mrs. Gillis and Major Gillis visited them while here, and they are now making their home at Camp Butler.

Miss Frances Zavrel and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Zavrel are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Houston Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harris and small son, Charles Lloyd, visited relatives and friends in Cameron over the week end.

T. O. Westbrook, Old Timer, Comes Back After Many Years

T. O. Westbrook who lives in the shadow of the pines and the gum tree forests in Leon county, was in Cameron Monday to visit with his brother, Ed. Westbrook.

Mr. Westbrook was reared in the North Elm community and as a boy came to Cameron in a wagon with his father. At that time Cameron was a sprawling village on the banks of Little River and had none of the modern advantages of the present day city. R. L. Batte, called Lee by the old timers, was City Marshal and Mr. Westbrook said he was a good one, fitting well into the rugged atmosphere of the old days.

Mr. Westbrook and brother Ed. Westbrook in Cameron are grand nephews of the late Charles Goodnight, builder of the cattle empire in the west.

Mr. Westbrook's home is at Oakwood.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Eicholz and two sons of Waco, are moving to Cameron to make their home. He is employed at the New Cameron Drug Company as prescription clerk, and his family will arrive some time next week and will occupy the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Slaughter on North Travis Street.
